

2017-11-17 Friday Juan Llobell Marek Connell English notes 1,5 crunch ^(el crujido) time a critical moment or period (as near the end of a game) when decisive action is needed

When it comes to the crunch (el crujido)

credit crunch (crisis)
(≈Cierrar el grifo)

Money down the drain. (alcantarillas)
(malgastado)

Not enough motivation.

Recycling

CO₂ (carbon dioxide)

Deforestation

Let's go straight for the jugular. (vamos a grano)

The green house (invernadero) effect

To abuse of +object.

Such as
Like +object
For example

In the pipeline

backed up (retrasado) somewhere in a process; in process; in a queue.

"There are a lot of goods still in the pipeline. That means no more new orders will be shipped for a while."

"Your papers are in the pipeline somewhere. You'll just have to wait."

To make a quick buck.

To hinder (dificultar, obstaculizar)

to quash reject as invalid, especially by legal procedure.