

lavish (prodigar; malbaratar/ extravagant)
 1. sumptuously rich, elaborate, or luxurious.
 2. bestow something in generous or extravagant quantities on.

Lavishly (pródigamente generosamente) sumptuously suntuosamente

deinty
 1. delicately small and pretty.
 2. fastidious, especially concerning food.

Wistful
 having sadness or melancholy about something.

Creche (nursery)

To long for	+object verb+ing	(desear)
To long to + verb + object
"I long to see you again"
"A lot of people long for being famous fame."
1. strong, persistent desire or craving, especially for something unattainable or distant: "filled with longing for home." 2. an instance of this: "a sudden longing to see old friends." adjective 3. having or characterized by persistent or earnest desire: "a longing look."

To wallow (revolcarse) in your own filth (cochinada).

To bound (To leap forward or upward; spring)

Ballet

To straut your staff<sup>[u]</sup> (To display in order to impress others)

To skalk (keep out of sight, typically with a sinister or cowardly motive.) (merodear)

Tortoise

Methane (metano)

Deterrent (disuasivo)

Teething próblemS (starting próblemS)

don't fret pet (mascota).

To fret (to worry)

To tach er's pet (traga-libros/ consentido/pelota)

Stolk