As far as = (As far as)

To seek advice.

Seek vs search

object of seek is the item you are trying to locate, whereas the object of search is the place you are looking in. E.g.:

I will seek my true love in this club.

I will search this club for my true love.

Also, seek implies that the seeker knows that the item they are looking for does exist.

Search has no such implication.

seek verb FORMAL

1 to try to find or get something, especially something which is not a physical object: "Are you actively seeking jobs?" she asked.

Hundreds of dissidents are seeking refuge/asylum in the US embassy.

2 to ask for advice, help, approval, permission, etc:

Legal advice should be sought before you take any further action.
